LESSON 4: PLATFORM-SPECIFIC IMAGE RULES

Each platform has different content guidelines. What works on Reddit will get you banned on Instagram. Understanding what is 'safe' per platform prevents account strikes and keeps your content flowing without interruption.

Instagram (Strictest)

- No nudity, implied or explicit
- No underwear as primary clothing
- Cleavage must be modest and natural
- Swimwear is allowed in context (beach, pool)
- No sexual poses or suggestive hand placement

TikTok (Strict)

- Similar rules to Instagram, often stricter
- Carousels and photo content are safest
- Avoid anything that could be flagged as 'adult content'
- When in doubt, keep it casual and clothed

Reddit (Most Flexible)

- Varies by subreddit rules
- SFW subreddits still require tasteful content
- Read each subreddit's rules before posting
- Some SFW subs allow swimwear, others don't

Twitter/X (Flexible)

- More lenient than Instagram
- SFW content performs better for discovery
- Mark sensitive content appropriately
- Keep main feed clean, use media for variety

GOLDEN RULE

When in doubt, keep it safe. One content strike on Instagram can shadow your account for weeks. It is always better to post something slightly too modest than to risk a ban.
