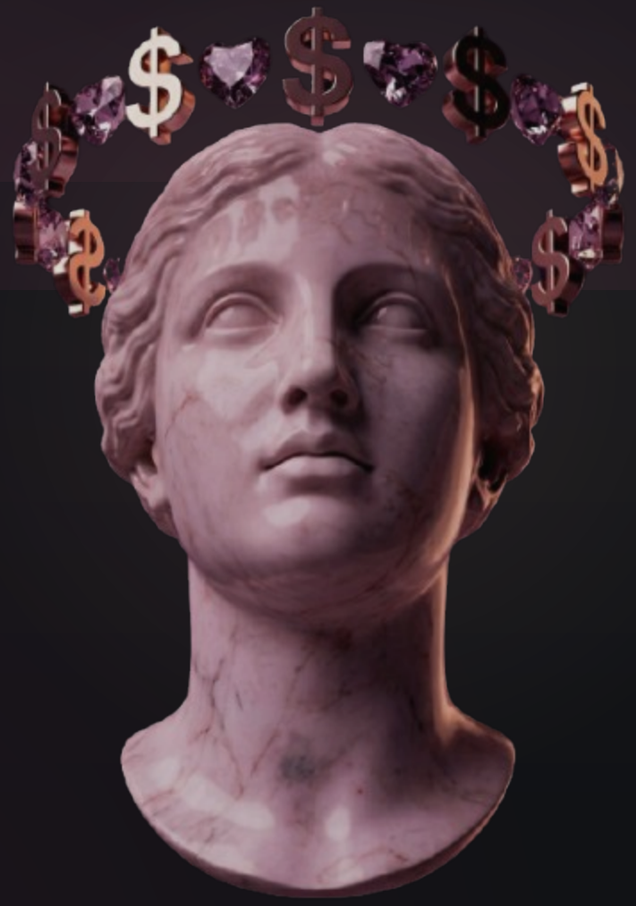
AI INFLUENCER METHOD



LESSON 1: CHOOSING YOUR NICHE & PERSONA

Your niche determines your audience, your content style, and your revenue potential. Research what is already working — look at successful AI influencer pages on Instagram and TikTok. Study which aesthetics get engagement and which niches have active, paying audiences. Choose based on market demand, not personal preference.

Key Persona Decisions

- Age range and look (18-25 is the standard sweet spot for engagement)
- Ethnicity and features — pick what resonates with your target audience
- Style and aesthetic (e.g., girl-next-door, alt, fitness, elegant, cute)
- Personality tone (shy, bold, playful, mysterious) — this shapes all captions
- Name — must sound real, be memorable, easy to search, and available across platforms

Proven Niche Categories

- Girl-next-door / College aesthetic — highest mass appeal, easiest to grow
- Fitness / Gym — strong engagement, clear content themes
- Alt / Goth — passionate niche audience, less competition
- Elegant / Luxury — attracts higher-spending audience
- Cute / Soft — strong on Threads and TikTok for discovery

Niche Selection Rules

- Pick a niche with proven demand — do not invent a new one
- Research what is working on subscription platforms and social media
- Your persona must feel like a real person, not a character or cartoon
- Avoid overly specific niches that limit content variety
- Avoid niches that require complex backgrounds or scenarios to generate
- The simpler the niche, the easier it is to maintain consistency

GOOD EXAMPLE:

Niche: Cute, approachable college-age girl with a soft aesthetic.
Name: Emma, Lily, Sofia — simple, real, memorable.
Why it works: Massive audience, easy to generate content, natural settings.

BAD EXAMPLE:

Niche: 'Cyberpunk alien princess from the future.'
Name: XxDarkAngelxX — unnatural, forgettable.
Why it fails: Tiny audience, hard to generate consistently, looks obviously AI.

Name Selection Checklist

- Sounds like a real person's name — not a brand or character
- Easy to spell and remember after seeing it once
- Available as a username on Instagram, TikTok, and Threads
- Not already used by a well-known creator or public figure
- Works with a last initial for username format (e.g., emma.laine, sofiam)
