BIO: IDENTITY AND EMOTIONAL HOOK

The bio should sound like a person, not a business. It must feel emotional rather than technical. A bad bio focuses on features instead of feelings. Features do not create desire. Feelings create desire.

Bio Must Answer

- Who are you
- What happens here
- Why should I stay

GOOD EXAMPLE:

Just a girl who loves late nights and private talks.
I share my daily life and my naughty side here.
Stay and get to know me better.

BAD EXAMPLE:

Daily posts. HD videos. Cheap PPV.

The bio should never look like a shop description. It should look like a short personal introduction.

Bio Structure

- First line: personality or mood
- Second line: type of content/interaction
- Third line: emotional invitation

END SUMMARY

- The Fanvue page is a conversion environment, not a content gallery
- The banner sets the mood — it must match the persona type
- The bio must sound human, emotional, and inviting
- Free content builds trust, subscriber content builds desire, PPV fulfills fantasy
- Each content layer must leave something unfinished
- Automated messages create emotional touchpoints, not sales pitches
- Subscription price removes fear — real revenue comes from chatting and PPV
- Visual consistency protects realism and creates attachment
