INTRO: THE ROLE OF REDDIT

Reddit is not the optimal traffic source for Fanvue or AI models. It is slow, strict, and heavily moderated. Most subreddits do not allow promotion and remove content quickly.

However, Reddit can be extremely powerful when a post goes viral inside the correct niche subreddit. One viral post inside the right subreddit can generate large traffic in a short time.

Reddit does not reward creators. It rewards relevance inside specific communities. The purpose of Reddit is not mass exposure. The purpose is niche exposure.

But only if the account looks real, trusted, and natural. Reddit works best as an opportunistic traffic source. Not as a main platform. But as a multiplier when a post hits the right audience.

A good Reddit account does not look like a model account. It looks like a normal user who belongs to a niche. The fan should feel like they discovered you inside their own community, not that you came to advertise.

PROFILE: FIRST IMPRESSION

The username and profile are the first trust signals. The profile should look like a normal Reddit user, not a promotional page.

Username Rules

- No sexual words
- No random numbers
- No spam patterns
- Must look human and natural

The profile answers one question for moderators and users: Is this a real person.

Profile Picture Rules

- Should be neutral or soft
- Never explicit
- Before posting NSFW content, the profile must be marked as NSFW in Reddit settings

Good example:
Username: sarah_thinksalot
Profile pic: casual selfie, soft smile

Bad example:
Username: hotmodel_xxx_99
Profile pic: explicit pose, heavy filter

BIO: IDENTITY AND SAFETY

The bio should sound casual and normal. It should not contain links or promotions in the beginning. The bio should help the account blend in as a normal Reddit user.

Good example:

Just here for memes and random thoughts

Bad example:

Model. Content. Link below.

POSTS: TRUST AND VISIBILITY

Posts exist to build history and karma, not to drive traffic. Early posts should be safe and neutral. Reddit rewards consistency and participation, not speed.

Post Content Should Include

- Memes
- Questions
- Text posts
- Casual photos
- Normal discussions

Posts Should Avoid

- Links
- Promotions
- Sexual content
- Repeated titles

COMMENTS: RELATIONSHIP AND KARMA

Comments are the main legitimacy signal. Comments should look like real reactions, not strategy.

Comments Should Be

- Relevant
- Short
- Human
- Non-promotional

Good example:
that's funny
i agree with this didn't think of it like that

Never Comment Like This

Bad example:
check my profile
link in bio
dm me

TARGETING: SUBREDDITS AND NICHES

The goal is not large subreddits. The goal is correct subreddits. Each model must match the subreddit style. Never post off-theme. The account should slowly build trust inside specific communities.

General Subreddits

- r/18_22
- r/selfietits

Cute / Innocent Style

- r/cutecore
- r/cutevsslut

Goth Girl Subreddits

- r/gothwhoress
- r/gothgirlsgw
- r/altgirls

Key Rule

Match the model to the subreddit. Never post off-theme. A goth model does not belong in a cute subreddit.

POSTING PHASE: AFTER WARM UP

After warm up, posting can increase slowly. NSFW and traffic content must only start after history exists, karma exists, subreddit rules are understood, and profile is marked as NSFW in settings.

- Link placement starts only after around 1k followers
- Verification using r/letsverify is optional — it is a bonus, not a requirement

CONTENT PROGRESSION MODEL

Content must follow a ladder. Each layer must leave something unfinished so the next layer becomes attractive.

→ Neutral content builds trust

→ Soft content builds curiosity

→ Fanvue fulfills fantasy

Critical Rule

If Reddit gives satisfaction, the user will not click out. Always leave desire unfinished.

VISUAL CONSISTENCY

All images must look like the same person. Sudden changes reduce realism. Realism creates trust. Trust creates clicks.

- Backgrounds should be similar
- Lighting should be similar
- Style should be similar

END SUMMARY

Reddit is not a main traffic source. It is a niche amplifier. It works only when the account looks real, warm up is complete, karma is built, and subreddits match the model.

One viral post in the right subreddit can outperform weeks of posting. If the account moves too fast, it dies. If the account blends in, it survives.

Karma Farming Methods

- Commenting in anime subreddits
- Posting questions in hobby subreddits
- Posting AI animal images in animal subreddits and asking for names
- Posting memes in meme subreddits
- Posting casual questions and opinions

Remember

Get creative. Act human. Blend in.
